

I Hold:

- a PHD in applied Physics from the University of Paris 13, France,
  - an advanced Studies diploma in Optical and Microwaves Communications University of Limoges France, and
  - an Engineer Degree in Electronics Instrumentation University of Setif Algeria.
- More than 20 years of experience in nuclear instrumentation and ICT. I coordinated many projects and organized conferences workshops and meetings in the field

I was previously:

- head of the department of nuclear physics and chemistry of the Radio isotopes institute
- head of the nuclear instrumentation and computer science laboratory of the Radio isotopes institute.

Actually I am the chair of the High Authority for Atomic Energy of Niger since 2014 and special advisor to the President of the Republic of Niger, in the nuclear field since 2012.

She is also a lecturer at the faculty of sciences and Techniques of the University Abdou Moumouni of Niamey (electronics, sensors detectors, for master degree students) since 2012.

- Governor for Niger at the IAEA
- Vice Chair of WGB of the CTBTO